

F-ISH

They're Not Laughing Now

"They laughed when I said I was going to be a comedian. They're not laughing now." Bob Monkhouse.

PRIVATE VIEW 6_9PM 9th OCTOBER Running until 21st November 2010
Thursday-Saturday 11am/5pm, Sunday 12pm/4pm or by appointment.

Stuart Griffiths & Amanda Jobson 'Stade' 2010

Alexander Brattell, Andrew Catlin, Martin Everett, Nigel Green, Stuart Griffiths, Amanda Jobson, Nazarin Montag, Bruce Rae & Vicky Wetherill. Curated by Alexander Brattell.

"Hastings Photographicus" by Vassilis Kantas

(Extract from the catalogue text: 'They are not laughing now', F-ISH Gallery, Oct 2010)

Hastings, due to its lack of a natural harbour, has witnessed over the years many attempts to create a sheltered harbor. Though a 'harbour arm' remains uncompleted, a 'creative arm' releases the shutter button of a camera quite often in this coastal town. In this group show nine photographers based in Hastings - a town which is sometimes referred to as 'the birthplace of television' since the pioneer of television, John Logie Baird, lived there – continue an inquiry upon vision.

Get your copy of the hard back publication: <http://www.blurb.com/books/1605045>

44/45 ROBERTSON STREET HASTINGS TN34 1HL EAST SUSSEX WWW.F-ISH.CO.UK
OFFICE 01424 205 400 SIMON HEDGES 07964 545702 _ SIMON@F-ISH.CO.UK

Part of F-ISH Creative
'A' rated ECO Gallery

Equal opportunities employer
Ecological Solar powered Hosting

Not for profit
Recycled consumables