How to use this catalogue

This catalogue contains a carefully chosen range of publications on the history, planning, architecture, countryside, customs, celebrities and characters of Hastings and St Leonards. Other towns and areas in East Sussex of connected interest are also represented.

All items listed can be viewed and purchased at The Environment Shop, 58a High Street, Old Town, Hastings, TN34 3EN and the St Leonards Conservation Centre, 49 Marina, St Leonards, TN38 0BE or they can be obtained by post by completing the order form inside the back cover.

Please use the Proposal Form to recommend suitable items for future editions. It is intended to update the catalogue annually.

Items are listed in alphabetical order by title in the main section. An index at the back lists items in alphabetical order by author/editor.

Who we are

The Environment Shop is an initiative of the Hastings Trust, which has been established to help people protect and improve the Hastings Environment and promote sustainable economic and cultural development. The Trust - which is continuing much of the work of the Hastings Urban Conservation Project (HUCP) - is a company limited by guarantee and charity status has been applied for.

This catalogue on Hastings and St Leonards has been compiled to promote the wealth of fascinating publications that exist on the local environment, thereby stimulating interest in the local environment itself.

Any offers of assistance with distributing the catalogue or with future editions will be gratefully received and should be directed to:
